The Continental Affair

Christine Mangan

Meet Henri and Louise. Two strangers, travelling alone, on the train from Belgrade to Istanbul. Except this isn't the first time they have met.

It's the 1960s and Louise is running. From her past in England, from the owners of the money she has stolen – and from Henri, the person who has been sent to collect it. Across the Continent, from Granada to Paris, from Belgrade to Istanbul, Henri follows, desperate to leave behind his own troubles. The memories of his past life as a gendarme in Algeria that keep resurfacing. His inability to reconcile the growing responsibilities of his current criminal path with this former self.

But Henri soon realises that Louise is no ordinary mark. As the train hurtles toward its final destination, Henri and Louise must decide what the future will hold – and whether it involves one another.

Gorgeous writing, European glamour, and an expansive wanderlust: Christine Mangan's The Continental Affair is a daring literary caper that is quick on its feet and delightfully surprising.

Her, Too

Bonnie Kistler

Kelly McCann is a fighter. She's fought to build a successful career as a criminal defence attorney, fought for the special needs of her family, and tirelessly fought for her clients. Her specialty is defending men accused of sex crimes – falsely accused, she always maintains. Her detractors call her a traitor to her gender, but she doesn't care: she loves to win.

Kelly's most recent victory is securing an acquittal for a world renowned scientist accused of sexually assaulting his female employees. But the thrill of her victory is short-lived. That very night she, too, becomes the victim of a brutal sexual assault. And almost as horrific as the attack is the fact that she can't tell anyone it happened or who the perpetrator is – not without destroying her career in the process.

Kelly has never backed down from a fight and she's not about to start pulling her punches now. As she joins forces with her rapist's other victims, for Kelly for the first time it's not about winning – these wronged women are out for justice and for revenge.

A quest for justice and revenge in an addictively readable thriller.

The Blame

Charlotte Langley

Detective Inspector Erin Crane is assigned to the investigation into 16-year-old Sophie Madson's murder along with her partner, DCI Tom Radley. Over the years they've formed a close professional bond built on mutual trust and a shared contempt for the unscrupulous head of the anti-corruption team. This case will prove a bigger test of their relationship than either of them could ever have imagined.

During the investigation, Tom discovers Erin's biggest secret. But to her surprise, far from driving them apart, the revelation brings them closer together, and Tom and Erin embark on a love affair – despite the risk to their careers and the case.

Then Erin discovers dashcam footage from a van driver, showing Sophie getting into Tom's car barely an hour before she died. Tom becomes the prime suspect in the murder case and everything Erin thought she could trust begins to crumble...

An incredibly topical police thriller about corruption and misogyny in the institutions that are meant to be keeping you safe. Optioned for ITV by Nicola Schindler (The Stranger, Happy Valley) at Quay Street.

Swimming for Beginners

Nicola Gill

Loretta Dunn has her life neat and under control. She's chasing a promotion and marrying a man whose five-year plan aligns perfectly with hers. She's good at avoiding things that make her uncomfortable – parties, excessive emotion, getting hurt.

But then a stranger in an airport asks Loretta to keep an eye on her sleeping child Phoebe... and never comes back.

Loretta knows from that moment that Phoebe's life will change forever. But what she doesn't realise is that so will hers.

The tiny, strange little person in fairy wings will make Loretta learn to play 'poo trumps', get a swimming cap onto a child's head without social services being called, cut toast into Mickey Mouse shapes – and question everything she thinks she knows about herself.

Mrs Plansky's Revenge

Spencer Quinn

Mrs. Loretta Plansky, a recent widow in her seventies, is settling into retirement in Florida while dealing with her 98-year-old father and fielding requests for money from her beloved children and grandchildren. Thankfully, her new hip hasn't changed her killer tennis game one bit.

One night Mrs. Plansky is startled awake by a phone call from a voice claiming to be her grandson Will, who desperately needs ten thousand dollars to get out of a jam. Of course, Loretta obliges – after all, what are grandmothers for, even grandmothers who still haven't received a simple 'thank you' for a gift sent weeks ago. Not that she's counting.

By morning, Mrs. Plansky has lost everything. Law enforcement announces that her life savings have vanished, and that it's hopeless to find the scammers behind the heist. First humiliated, then furious, Loretta Plansky refuses to be just another victim.

In a courageous bid for justice, Mrs. Plansky follows her only clue on a whirlwind adventure to a small village in Romania to get her money and her dignity back – and perhaps find a new lease on life, too.

Meet an irresistible heroine in a story perfect for book clubs and commercial fiction readers.

The Way Back

Alice Peterson

Holly's husband died. She's lonely and purposeless. She knows she needs to do something to save herself, and needs to do it quickly. Next thing she knows she's interviewing for a volunteer job at a social enterprise café.

Angus has messed up. He's lost the respect of his family and no longer has any respect for himself. If it weren't for his brother and his friend who run a café, he'd be sleeping on the streets. Angus is about ready to give up – until he meets Holly.

Stacey lives in a homeless shelter. She arrived in London with nothing but an old train ticket, a teddy bear, and the clothes on her back. With no family, no home, no friends, she doesn't know what love is. People scare her. When she meets Holly and Angus at the café, she is terrified of them.

Holly, Angus and Stacey are going to turn each other's lives upside down. What they don't know is that strangers can become family. And that love can happen in the most unexpected ways.

Murder on the Menu

Alex Coombs

Chef Charlie Hunter's arrival in the beautiful Chilterns is the fulfilment of a long-held dream: to open her own restaurant in an idyllic countryside location. The Old Forge sits on the village green (complete with duck pond and flint-face houses) and seems just the place to create the high-quality cooking she wants to be known for.

But instead of rural peace and quiet and chance to lick her wounds, Charlie finds something ugly stirring under the chocolate box perfection. When a prominent local builder is found dead in suspicious circumstances, she herself, the outsider, becomes a suspect. And the only way to clear her name seems to be to find out who the real killer is.

Luckily she has allies: her student waitress, a kitchen porter making up in muscles what he lacks in brain and a briskly efficient clairvoyant. Utilising all the craft Charlie's learned in kitchens – discipline, timing, preparation and grim determination – she will be as relentless in her quest to bring a murderer to justice as she is in creating the perfect meal.

The Cancer Companion

Anne Marie O'Dwyer

Psychologist Professor Anne Marie O'Dwyer wrote the textbook on the psychology of cancer for OUP: this is her book for everyone. The information must, however, be appropriate for you, your cancer and your treatment. In an age of information-overload, 'misinformation' is everywhere, potentially worsening, rather than helping, your situation.

O'Dwyer has almost four decades of clinical experience, more than half of that time spent working directly with patients who have cancer. She provides an integrated biological and psychological perspective, focused on the human aspects of cancer.

With stories from patients and helpful advice to guard against misinformation shame, fear or denial, The Cancer Companion is filled with warmth and robust humanity on every page, helping the reader get through the emotional hurdles of diagnosis, treatment, side effects and outcomes.

The definitive, inspirational book to help navigate or avoid the difficulties associated with cancer and its treatment, written for patients, partners, family, work colleagues and even health practitioners themselves.

Under the Tamarind Tree

Nigar Alam

One night. Four friends. Countless secrets.

1964. Karachi. Rozeena is running out of time. She'll lose her home – her parents' safe haven since fleeing India and the terrors of Partition – if her medical career doesn't take off soon. But success may come with an unexpected price. Meanwhile the interwoven lives of her childhood best friends – Haaris, Aalya, and Zohair – seem to be unravelling with each passing day. The once small and inconsequential differences between their families' social standing now threaten to divide them. Then one fateful night someone ends up dead and the life they once took for granted shatters.

2019. Rozeena receives a call from a voice she never thought she'd hear again. What begins as an ask to look after a friend's teenage granddaughter struggling with her own demons grows into an unconventional friendship – one that unearths buried secrets and just might ruin everything Rozeena has worked so hard to protect.

Captivating and heartbreaking, this debut about the echoes of Partition shows the high-stakes ripple effects of generational trauma, and the lengths people will go to protect the ones they love.

Eternal

Lisa Scottoline

What war destroys, only love can heal.

Elisabetta, Marco, and Sandro grow up in Rome as the best of friends despite their differences. Elisabetta is a feisty beauty who dreams of becoming a novelist; Marco the brash and athletic son in a family of professional cyclists; and Sandro a Jewish mathematics prodigy, kind-hearted and thoughtful, the son of a lawyer and a doctor. Their friendship blossoms to love, with both Sandro and Marco hoping to win Elisabetta's heart. But in the autumn of 1937, all that begins to change as Mussolini asserts his power, aligning Italy's Fascists with Hitler's Nazis and altering the very laws that govern Rome. In time, everything that the three hold dear – their families, their homes, and their connection to one another – will be tested in ways they never could have imagined.

Loyalty

Lisa Scottoline

Franco Fiorvante is a handsome lemon-grower who has toiled for years on the estate of a baron. Franco dreams of owning his own lemon grove, but the rigid class system of Sicily thwarts his ambitions. Determined to secure a prosperous future, Franco will do anything to prove his loyalty. But when the baron asks him to arrange the kidnapping of a little boy, Franco crosses the point of no return, setting in motion the making of the world's first Mafia family.

Gaetano Catalano is an idealistic young lawyer, whose devotion for justice is a calling. Gaetano is a member of the Beati Paoli, a real-life secret society of aristocrats who investigate crime in Palermo, a city riddled with corruption. Gaetano sets out to find the boy and bring him home, but his mission turns to obsession. He risks everything to right the wrong and bring justice to his beloved city.

An epic tale of good versus evil, set against the rugged beauty island of Sicily, where lush lemon groves and mouth-watering cuisine contrast with a turbulent history of colonization and corruption.

Code of the Hills

Chris Offutt

Mick Hardin is back home. He'd planned to touch down briefly before heading to France, marking the end to his 20-year Army career. In Rocksalt, his sister Linda the sheriff is investigating the murder of Pete Lowe, a sought-after mechanic at the local racetrack. After another body is found, Linda and her deputy Johnny Boy Tolliver wonder if the two murders are related. Linda steps into harm's way just as a third body turns up and Mick ends up being deputised again, uncovering evidence of illegal cockfighting, and trying to connect all the crimes.

Acclaimed crime writer Chris Offutt ('Righteous' The New York Times, 'Elegant' Val McDermid, 'I gulped it down' Ian Rankin) returns to the mayhem of the Kentucky hills, in this harrowing novel of family – what we're willing to do to protect and avenge the ones we love.

A Week on Mount Olympus

Peter Murphy

Charlie Walden is the Resident Judge of the Bermondsey Crown Court, where he had hoped for a quiet life, but has found it to be anything but. With the job of balancing the needs of prosecutors, judges, 'Grey Smoothies', the humourless grey-suited civil servants, and the overall needs of a Crown Court he soon finds himself struggling to keep the peace and his own delightful humour.

In this Walden novel after collections of stories, Charlie is faced with a number of topical issues he hadn't anticipated; the harassed judge must tiptoe through a minefield of exasperating cases in order to keep everyone from the cannabis lobby to the anti-slave traders happy with his judgements.

No hope of a quiet life for Charlie then, but, as ever, he picks his way through the issues of the day with satirical good humour, insight and wit.

An entertaining and insightful look at the British court system by a former judge – perfect for anyone who loved Rumpole of the Bailey. Sadly this was his only Walden novel before Peter Murphy's death.
